What's up for Winter....

Now we have some Good News and some Bad News for you..... Bad news – id bare Minerals have been pulled from Australasia :o(We are really unhappy and sorry about this, but we are simply unable to source it from anywhere else.

The Good news - We have sourced Inika (aneka) which is the next generation Mineral make up. It is beautiful to use and has been likened to Mac, but mineral! We know you'll be as disappointed, but we also know you are going to LOVE Inika. It's actually easier to use, less mess and comes in a liquid form as well! So come in and have a free make up session with us!

The id will be fazing during June with Inika coming through in mid-June. If you have any favourites that you want to hold onto for a wee while longer phone us now so we can get it in for you.
